Event Date: Thursday 26 March 2020

Time: 12noon to 1pm with post-event sandwich buffet lunch

Venue: Conference Rooms, lower ground floor, Balls Bros Wine Bar, Minster Pavement, Mincing Lane, London EC3.

Subject: This Market Briefing will provide an overview of the practical aspects of collision claims, giving a simple guide to the Collision Regulations and how early assessments can be made as to which ship is to blame and where to commence proceedings.

This is a free event, but names and email addresses of all attendees are required for registration.

With a huge percentage of world trade transported via our oceans and seas, our global dependency on shipping is paramount.

However, while oceans offer opportunities for shipping, there are numerous hazards that accompany sea transport including potential collisions between vessels.

This Market Briefing will provide an overview of the practical aspects of collision claims, giving a simple guide to the Collision Regulations and how early assessments can be made as to which ship is to blame.

In addition, our speaker will explore options open to shipowners as to where to undertake arrest and the best forum for legal proceedings.

Speakers:

Chris Zavos is a partner in Kennedy's London office, specialising in dispute resolution in marine and off-shore energy matters. Predominantly for Lloyd's and global (re)insurers, he has extensive experience in advising on complex coverage as well as liability defence, subrogation and sanctions issues. He regularly advised on claims under liability, P&I, marine, war, BAR/CAR, yacht, cargo and offshore policies as well as political risks insurance. Additionally, Chris has managed many market leading cases through arbitration and litigation and acts in collision and salvage matters.

Alistair Johnston is a partner in CJC's London office and is one of the three founders of the firm. Alistair's expertise covers all aspects of marine insurance, particularly collisions, groundings, fire and explosion, salvage, total loss, wreck removal, limitation of liability, pollution, general average, insurance coverage, shipbuilding, charterparty and bill of lading disputes. His broad experience includes comprehensive casualty handling and he has acted for owners and their insurers in some of the most significant and high profile cases in recent years, managing all elements from the practicalities of the casualties themselves to the ensuing contractual disputes.

As a member of the CPD (Continuing Personal or Professional Development) Certification Service the IUA is committed to providing high quality training activities. Our market briefing events are certified as being suitable for CPD purposes. To obtain a self assessment form for any particular event please email Deborah Finch. These forms will be issued after each individual event upon request.
